Pat has a consultation right now for the Limetree Bay refinery project in St. Croix (so I imagine the air folks reached out to you) but we have searched our records and asked our regions and apparently EPA has not consulted with NMFS before on air permits. Pat is trying to figure out (with EPA) the best way to analyze what might actually reach the water.

Hi Lee,

I hope you are doing well. I have a quick question for you. Did you ever come across ESA consultation related to the impacts of air pollutants (their transport into water) on corals, turtles or grouper?
